REVEL for Families and Their Social Worlds -- Access Card (3rd Edition)

By Karen T. Seccombe

REVEL™ for Families and Their Social Worlds leads students to view the family on a macro level by examining policies in place and how those policies impact families. Author Karen Seccombe encourages students to think about families beyond their own personal experiences, and even beyond family structure in the United States. Integrated coverage of important policy considerations throughout each chapter illustrates what is currently being done, and perhaps more importantly what can be done, to strengthen families and intimate relationships.

REVEL is Pearson's newest way of delivering our respected content. Fully digital and highly engaging, REVEL offers an immersive learning experience designed for the way today's students read, think, and learn. Enlivening course content with media interactives and assessments, REVEL empowers educators to increase engagement with the course, and to better connect with students.

NOTE: REVEL is a fully digital delivery of Pearson content. This ISBN is for the standalone REVEL access card. In addition to this access card, you will need a course invite link, provided by your instructor, to register for and use REVEL.

Editorial Review

About the Author

Karen Seccombe is a professor in the School of Community Health at Portland State University, located in Portland, Oregon. She is a proud community college graduate and appreciates the good start that they provided for her. Karen received her B.A. in sociology at California State University, Chico, her M.S.W. in health and social welfare policy from the University of Washington, and her Ph.D. in sociology from Washington State University. Her research focuses on poverty, welfare, access to health care, and the effects of social inequality on families. She is the author of Exploring Marriages and Families (third edition); “So You Think I Drive a Cadillac?”: Welfare Recipients’ Perspectives on the System and its Reform, (fourth edition); Families in Poverty; Just Don’t Get Sick: Access to Health Care in the Aftermath of Welfare Reform, with Kim Hoffman, and Marriages and Families: Relationships in Social Context, with Rebecca L. Warner. She is a fellow with the National Council on Family Relations, and is a member of the American Sociological Association and the Pacific Sociological Association, where she has held elective offices. Karen lives in the San Juan Islands off the coast of Washington with her husband Richard, a health economist, her fourteen-year-old daughter, Natalie Rose, her twelve-year-old daughter, Olivia Lin, and her two Australian Shepherds, Bart and Stella. In her spare time she enjoys cycling, kayaking, and hanging out with her “pack.”
